INTRODUCTION

GESGB are delighted to bring you the Geothermal Conference 2026 – Resource to Revenue, which takes place at the Geological Society, London on Wednesday 20 May.

This one-day conference is set to offer a broad spectrum of topics and will cover a wide range of trailblazing projects. We will explore how different levels of investment have shaped these opportunities and examine the ripple effects they've had across the industry.

The conference tracks the real journey from an original geothermal idea right through to operating project, here's what you can expect to learn and benefit from:

- Understand Funding Sources
- Explore Emerging Financing Models
- Delve into the Evolving Technology
- Listen to Case Studies
- Learn the Hard-Earned Lessons of both Project Successes & Failures

SPONSORSHIP AND PROMOTIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

The conference will cover an array of talks, presentations, real life case studies and panel discussions, and followed by our evening networking drinks reception, the ideal environment for engaging with industry influencers.

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

We're pleased to be able to offer a wide range of sponsorship opportunities at Geothermal Conference 2026, that are perfectly aligned to maximise your brand visibility and deliver genuine business returns. Our packages have been carefully designed to help you leverage your brand, broaden your client networks, generate leads and promote your organisation to the right industry leaders and financiers.

As a Sponsor of the conference, you will benefit by:

- Engaging with an influential audience, generating valuable leads and connections

PROMOTIONAL STANDS AND POSTER DISPLAYS

Running alongside the conference, we will have a designated networking and hospitality area, where although space is at a premium, we will be able to offer a limited number of places to companies and other organisations who wish to take either a promotional stand 'space' or display a Poster. This is our main business networking area, will be held in an adjacent room to the conference and where all refreshments and hospitality will be served over the day and at the Evening Reception.

This area is the perfect location for companies and organisations who wish to enhance their presence throughout the day and evening event.

With a Promotional Stand or Poster Display at Geothermal Conference 2026, you will benefit from:

- Networking with industry leading professionals including key decision makers, investors & stakeholders
- Engage with a highly influential and active global audience, generating valuable leads & connections
- Promote new business opportunities and build new alliances

If you'd like to book a Promotional Stand or Poster Display, please contact Nick Cottage on nick@ges-gb.org.uk with your enquiry.
